Register.

APPENDIX.

Extract paragraphs 21 and 22 from a Report from J. P. Gubbins, Esq., Judge of Dehlie, No. 27, dated 18*th March* 1850, on the administration of Civil Justice for the year 1849.

21. I have also to report, for the information of the Court, the completion of a system by which members of the Agricultural Community are now, in addition to the usual notice, also informed of suits preferred against them through the subordinate Revenue Authorities, a duplicate itilanamah being in all such cases forwarded through the Collector. This arrangement, which I have been able to effect through the assistance of the Commissioner, has already been productive of the best results, and I believe it will have the effect of completely preventing the institution of fraudulent suits, in which, owing to collusion between the plaintiff and the bearer of the notice, ex parte decrees were formerly obtained not unfrequently against parties, who, in fact, knew nothing about the matter.

22. There only remains one point to which I would wish to draw the attention of the Court, namely, the apparent hardship to which decreeholders are exposed. In cases where, from there being no ostensible assets available, they are compelled to attach houses or other property, the value of which very much exceeds the actual amount of the decree. In such cases, should the summary objection of an oozurdar be admitted, the decreeholder is compelled, under the present rules, to pay costs in proportion, not to the amount of his own decree, but to the full value of the whole property attached, which, considering how difficult it is for a decreeholder to discover what bonâ fide claims other people may have upon it,—supposing for instance the case of a husband executing a formal deed of gift to his wife in lieu of her settlements,—appears to me calculated, as indeed I have found it in practice, to occasion unnecessary loss and expense, and might altogether be avoided by rating the costs at the amount of the sum desired to be realized by the sale, instead of the value of the property itself, in all cases when it might appear that the decreeholder was not actuated by any desire to annoy the proprietor, but had done all in his power to arrive at a correct knowledge of the circumstances of the property.

9. The system introduced by you of notifying to agriculturists through the Collector, the institution of suits against them, appears to the Court an interesting experiment; which if found to have the beneficial effect anticipated by you, might with advantage be extended. The Court will be glad to hear your opinion at the close of the year, how far it has worked well in practice; and what its effect has been in diminishing the number of fraudulent and ex parte decisions.

10. The Court observe that the hardship noticed by you, viz., decreeholders being made liable for costs out of proportion to the amount of their decrees, will under the existing rules occasionally occur; they are not now however prepared to propose any alteration of the law applicable to the subject.

Extract paragraph 11, from a Report from H. W. Deane, Esq., Judge of Meerut, No. 29, dated 20*th March* 1850, on the administration of Civil Justice for the year 1849.

11. A case has recently occurred in this district, in respect to which, and to others of the same class, a satisfactory indication of the course to be pursued by the authorities, would seem to be wanted. A native Christian woman, who had assumed the name of a Military Officer of rank, with whom she formerly cohabited, died in this jurisdiction, intestate and without heirs. She left considerable personal property, of which the Civil Court duly took charge under Section 16, Clause 7, Regulation III. of 1803. She also left three bungalows at Meerut, and I was informed, on a reference which I made to the Sudder Court, that there is no law which requires a Judge to take possession of real property belonging to the estates of persons dying under the circumstances abovementioned. The Judge then not being the real custodian of this kind of property, on whom does it devolve to provide for its temporary care? At the present moment these bungalows are, as far as I am aware, left without any protection whatever.

1. Your report on the administration of Civil Justice for the past year 1849, having been laid before the Court, I am directed to inform you in reply to the remark in paragraph 11, that the Court, concurring with you in the opinion of the necessity for a legislative enactment, have addressed the lower Court of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, with a view to the extension of the provisions of Clause 7, Section 16, Regulation III. of 1803, to the real property of persons dying intestate.

Extract paragraphs 26, 27 and 28, from a Report from G. Blunt, Esq., Judge of Allygurh, No. 22, dated 15*th April* 1850, on the administration of Civil Justice for the year 1849.

26. There is however one point connected with the execution of decrees which in my opinion requires amendment. It is a common practice in this district for decreeholders to attach property which they are fully aware is not the property of the defendant: this property is either made over by the Ameen to the person causing the attachment or to some other person in collusion with him: the property is removed, and on objections being raised and substantiated by the real owner, he cannot, under Construction No. 958, dated 9th June 1835, re-acquire possession of his property without instituting a regular suit for damages against the parties withholding it. Now taking into consideration the class of men generally holding the appointment of Koork Ameen, the small amount of their legal fees, (which seldom exceeds Rs. 20 a month), and the inducement which a dishonest decreeholder is too likely to hold out not merely to falsify the statement of actual value and quantity of the property attached, but to make over the same to some person in collusion with him I consider the mode of procedure which the above Construction makes it necessary for the oozurdar to adopt, before he can recover his property, causes much hardship, and parties are frequently thus robbed of their property, who either from ignorance or want of means are prevented from instituting a regular suit. The only remedy that I can recommend is, that as by paragraph 3 of the same Circular it is declared, that the person at whose instance property is distrained or attached must be considered answerable for the safe custody of the property during the period of distraint or attachment, the Koork Ameen should be required to make the same over to him only, and that as the statement of either the value or the quantity of property furnished by an Ameen from his having taken the oath of office, is received as a sworn document, that on objections being substantiated, the Courts be authorized to require the party attaching either to deliver up the property attached or the value of it, and on his failing to do so to fine him for contempt of Court. The remedy would be most effectual. The practice complained of is confined to a race of Bohras who swarm in this district, and the sufferers are generally of the poorer classes, whose wordly goods seldom exceed Rs. 50 in value.

27. I must also mention that some modification appears to me requisite in Clause 2, Section 3, Regulation VII. 1825, as regards the attachment of zubtee crops; by the above Clause an ishtehar of 30 days is requisite before the property attached can be brought to sale: in numerous instances the crops are destroyed before the term of ishtehar has elapsed: both decreeholder and defendant suffer. The term of the ishtehar should be altered to ten days or a week.

28. I request the opinion of the Court on the following point. A practice prevailed in this district of filing copies of evidence taken in other cases on stamp paper, and should the same evidence be required in any other case, a petition is filed requesting they may be returned, which was done, authenticated copies on plain paper being put in their place in the original Misl in which they were filed. I am of opinion the practice is illegal. The copy of evidence could not be received except on stamp paper, and being once filed they form a part of the record, and are not returnable, nor can these be filed in any other suit. I have forbid the practice, and now mention my having done so, that my order may be recalled should it be deemed erroneous.

Extract paragraphs 3, 4 and 5 of the Court's reply, No. 641, dated 24*th May* 1850.

3. It would have been satisfactory, the Court observe, if you had illustrated by a detail of some particular instances, the abuses which you have noticed, in connection with the execution of decrees. They cannot concur in your proposition that a distrainer refusing to deliver up attached property on the requisition of the Court should be fined for contempt of Court; but recommend you to take care that your subordinates pay prompt attention to the cases on their miscellaneous files, and by a vigilant supervision and severe notice of such malpractices whenever they occur, to check them as much as possible in future.

4. I am desired to point out to you that the modification of Clause 2, Section 3 of Regulation VII. of 1825, which you suggest is unnecessary, as under Section 11 of Regulation XXVIII. of 1803, crops under attachment when ripe, should be reaped and stored. The Court are not aware that the crops coming under the denomination of "zubtee" may not be similarly dealt with.

5. The Court entirely concurring in the opinion which you have expressed in your concluding paragraph, hold the practice, which you have prohibited, to be irregular.

Extract paragraphs 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12, from a Report from J. Lean, Esq., Offg. Judge of Mooradabad, No. 41, dated 24*th June* 1850, on the administration of Civil Justice for the year 1849.

6. I have been employed as a Civil Judge nearly five years during the last nine years, and have every year been more and more convinced of the utter inefficiency of the means resorted to in our Courts for the discovery of the truth. Native evidence under any circumstances, and in any Courts is not of much value, and we have diminished its value by our legislating regarding oaths. I am not going to discuss the subject of oaths, which has been year after year brought on the tapis, and is probably exhausted; suffice it to say, that I think we should return to the old system as quickly as we can. But native evidence is peculiarly valueless in our Civil Courts, and for two reasons, the one that before it is given it is concocted by the vakeels, the other that it is not subjected to the test of a searching cross-examination on the part of the presiding Judge. Tutoring a witness is not peculiar to the practice of a vakeel, for it is proverbial that legal practitioners in England in drawing up their briefs are somewhat given to the habit, though doubtless not in the same degree; and yet it would be as impossible in the one country as in the other to dispense with some intervener between the client and the Court, for clients could not, in either country, state the facts of their cases in such wise, that the issues to be tried on them could be found; we must then keep our vakeels, and trust that their character will be gradually raised by association with English advocates as common in Calcutta, by the hope of employment as Judicial Officers, which hope has been, or is to be, held out to them in the Bengal Presidency, by the gradual spreading of education, and by the stricter supervision of the presiding Judges. The Native Judicial Officers, before whom, with very few exceptions, all Civil suits are originally decided, have not the time to cross-examine the witnesses themselves. It is true that we occasionally meet with a question put by them at the end of a deposition, but such supplementary questionings cannot be equally searching with a rigid cross-examination, such as is made, for instance, by a Sessions Judge after hearing a witness depose word by word, and what is more, after watching him so depose, something might be done perhaps towards raising the value of native evidence, by more frequent recourse to punishment for perjury, but so difficult is the proof of that crime, that that something would be very little. We must then look to some other means of arriving at the truth than mere oral evidence. Now I suppose nearly two-thirds of the suits which come before our Courts are founded on, or relate to, deeds of kinds, i. e., bonds, promissory notes, deeds of sale, gift, mortgage, and the like; and it strikes me that the means of deciding those cases would be immediately improved in a very simple way, by extending the benefits of registry, and by altering somewhat the nature of registry itself. I would at once declare every Moonsiff to be a Register of all Deeds, except those relating to land, within his own jurisdiction, and that the fee on the registry of such deed should be only eight annas in place of two rupees. If this were done, I think a large proportion of the deeds in question would be registered, and if they were, it is obvious that the remuneration of the Moonsiffs for registering would be ample on the diminished scale. I would also declare that registry should not involve merely the recognition of the execution of the deed, but the fulfilment of the transaction to which it relates, for instance on the parties to a bond appearing, I would not only register the bond, but I would note that the bond was delivered by the borrower to the lender on acknowledgment of receipt of the amount, and I would not admit any deed to registry unless the parties would certify to such completeness of transaction. This in fact is what is done in practice in some registry offices now, for such notes of receipt and delivery are made in some offices, though not in all; but nevertheless it is not legal. And if this plan were adopted, all that the Courts would have to do on a suit being laid on such a bond, would be to consult the book of registry as to the bond having been registered, and then at once to see if the amount had been repaid or not. I would likewise declare that every office of a Collector and of a Tehseeldar should be an office of registry, and the only offices, for all deeds, relating to land, on a like scale of fees, with a like record of completeness of transaction, and with a like rule that no deed should be received for registry till the parties would certify to completeness of transaction. On the deed being thus registered, I would have the procedure, if necessary under the transaction, to follow, which takes place at present in cases of "dakhil kharij." The Tehseeldars in cases of registry, made by them, and acted on by them, certifying the same to the Collectors. If this plan were adopted, there would be three great advantages, first, that one process would answer the purpose of two processes; second, that the completeness of a transaction, to which a deed may relate, could never be questioned, or in other words the Courts would have only to adjudicate on the contingencies of such transactions; and third, that there would be a record of every transaction regarding land in the fiscal offices. This plan of registry would directly facilitate the discovery of the truth in a large proportion of cases, i. e., of cases founded on, and relating to deeds, and would moreover indirectly facilitate the discovery of truth in cases, the decision of which may turn on the credibility of oral evidence, inasmuch as the deciding Officers would, under it, have more time for personally testing such evidence in cross-examination.

7. But whether this alteration in the law of registry be made or not, there is an anomaly in the law of our Courts relating to bonds, which should at once be removed by an explanatory construction. Clause 3rd, Section 6, Regulation VIII. 1805 is in these words. "The Zillah Courts are prohibited from decreeing the payment or satisfaction of any sum due on a tummussookh, or bond, which may be entered into after the promulgation of this Regulation, unless the bond shall be proved to have been executed in the presence of two credible witnesses, or the payment of the sum demanded on the bond, or some other valuable consideration for it having been received, shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Court. But the restriction contained in this Clause shall not extend to any Bills of Exchange, Receipts or Notes of hand, in the determination in which the custom of the country shall be abided by." The meaning of these words is obviously this, that execution of the bond being proved by the attesting witnesses, and its delivery being likewise proved by the evidence of the said witnesses or by other evidence, or by the presumption arising from the bond being in the possession of the obligee, payment of the consideration is to be decreed, or in other words, that the general rule of law, that "a contract by deed requires no consideration to support it, the law conclusively presuming that it is made upon a good and sufficient consideration," is to be followed; and that in the event of the execution of the bond not being proved by the evidence of the attesting witnesses, the receipt of the consideration shall be proved. But in practice the existence of the little word, "or," which I have underlined, has been strangely overlooked, and it has therefore been usual for our Courts not only to call upon the obligee to prove execution and delivery of the bond, but also the receipt of the consideration by the obliger. This has led to most perplexing investigations being made as to the circumstances which led to the execution of the bond, viz. as to accounts in detail, balance on accounts, the restoration of bonds of previous dates, the receipt of cash, or in other words, an investigation on points has been deemed necessary, to preclude the necessity of which being investigated, was the very object of the execution of the bond. Moreover the proof of the pleas of the parties relating to this investigation has led to perjury and subornation of perjury to a fearful extent. But though the evil is great, the remedy is simple, a few words in the shape of a construction.

8. Another grand cause of confusion in our Courts is, the law regarding redemption of mortgage. The system in vogue amongst the native community before our rule was the simple one of the mortgagee receiving the profits of the thing mortgaged in lieu of interest till redemption, and of the mortgage being redeemed on the payment of the amount lent, on the expiration of the term of mortgage, or at the will of the mortgager, as the terms of the deed might run. Nothing could be more simple than this procedure; and its simplicity will be evident on consulting the phraseology of such deeds, viz., "profits in place of interest," or "neither my (the mortgager's) profits, nor your (the mortgagees') interest," or "you, (the mortgagee) will not receive interest, nor I (the mortgager) receive rent," and the like phrases. But our legislators, influenced by a reverence for the usury laws, by which they had assigned a limit of 12 per cent. to interest on all transactions, declared that in all such mortgages, which may have been or should be executed subsequent to a certain date, the terms of the mortgagee should not be regarded, i. e., that in these, as in other mortgages, redemption should be considered to have taken place, when the mortgagee shall have received the principal with 12 per cent. interest thereon, and this declaration has been construed by our Courts to mean, not that the mortgagee in these cases shall have that rate of interest made good to him as in other cases, but that he shall not receive more than that rate, and that the investigation directed by law on the subject shall be confined to this latter point. As then the transaction is no longer simplified by such a deed, and as the mortgagee on such a deed may incur a loss, which the mortgagees on other deeds cannot easily incur, such deeds are now seldom drawn up, i. e., the deeds now drawn up generally contain merely a stipulation that the mortgagee shall receive 12 per cent. on the money he lends, to which deeds the rule, that the mortgagee shall be considered redeemed, whenever the principal with interest shall have been realized from the usufruct, literally and entirely applies. These suits are probably the most complex that come before our Courts, and to say nothing of the intricacy of the law relating to them, lead to perjuries without end on the part of the mortgagee, on his swearing to the accounts produced by him according to law, to subornation of perjury on his part to support his perjury, and to all kinds of falsification of accounts. Surely it would be a very simple remedy to revert to the old native system, i. e. to let the parties abide by their contract in all its integrity, or in other words to place the chance of profit, more or less than 12 per cent. as it may be, against the interest. If this were done, I doubt not that parties would revert to their old national custom of writing deeds of mortgage, with the simple conditions above adverted to, and if now, did so, the Courts in place of having to make perplexing investigation as to profits as they dotheof would have merely to enquire if the principal had been, or could be paid, and in the event he either being the case, to declare the mortgage redeemed if the term have expired, or on the mortgagee expressing a wish to redeem, as the terms of the deed may run. I would urgently suggest legislation on this subject.

9. The principle, on which the suits in our Courts are valued with reference to the institution fee, is most imperfect. All suits are valued at their actual value, with the exception of suits for landed property paying revenue, i. e. for such estates entire, or specific shares in such estates, and of suits for rent-free landed property, the former being arbitrarily estimated at one year's revenue, the latter at eighteen times their net annual profit. The estimate of rent-free landed property is probably correct enough; but that of landed property paying revenue is far from being so. At the time the latter was so estimated, it was probably on account of over-assessment, of uncertainty of rights consequent on tenures not being understood, and on their being no record of them, such as was made at the late settlement, of settlements being for short terms, of the conflicting jurisdictions of the Civil Courts, the special commission and the revenue Courts of settlement, and of other causes, correctly estimated, but as things are, the estimate is most incorrect, for it is known that such estates sell for five times and even seven times the repective amounts of revenue which they pay. The Moonsiffs then nominally decide cases relating to landed property up to Rs. 300, but really cases up to Rs. 1,500, or even Rs. 2,100, and of course the same remark, mutatis mutandis, holds good of the Courts of higher jurisdiction. This inconsistency I suggest should be remedied, not only with reference to itself, but with reference to the interests of Government in the matter of the amount of institution fee, with reference to the injustice of taxing one description of property at a lower rate than others with regard to litigation, and with reference to the absurdity of valuing an estate at one year's revenue, and a portion of that estate, not forming a specific share of it, at its actual selling price, or in other words, at a rate perhaps seven times higher, for such be it observed is the law relating to the valuation of such portions of such estates. If this were done, it would be necessary either to raise the jurisdiction of the present Moonsiffs, or to appoint more Sudder Ameens. I would recommend the latter plan, not only because I think the Moonsiffs, generally speaking, should not be entrusted with the decision of suits of higher value than they are at present, but because I think more appointments to the office of Sudder Ameen would operate beneficially, as an incitement to exertion and a reward for superior ability. If more Sudder Ameens were appointed, be it observed, they might be located in the Mofussil, with jurisdiction over a certain number of Moonsiffships in cases exceeding Rs. 300 in value, and this description of jurisdiction would not be anomalous to our present system, for such Sudder Ameens would be to such jurisdictions what our present Sudder Ameens, stationed at the Sudder Stations, are to whole districts. It appears that in the Lower Provinces, the Government have lately appointed a great number of Judicial Officers of this grade, and probably if none are appointed in these Provinces in like manner, our subordinate Judicial Officers will complain of the difference of the systems of the two presidencies in that respect.

10. There is a defect in the very constitution of our Courts, which I think ought to be remedied, viz. that a Judge, however well acquainted he may be with Mohumedan or Hindoo Law, cannot himself legally apply it. In Section 15, Regulation IV. 1793, it is declared, that in suits regarding succession, inheritance, marriage and caste, and all religious usages and institutions, the Mohumedan Laws with respect to Mohumedans, and the Hindoo Laws with regard to the Hindoos, are to be considered as the general rules by which the Judges are to form their decisions. In the respective cases the Mohumedan and Hindoo Law Officers of the Court are to attend to expound the law. In Section 4, Regulation II. 1798, it is declared, that by Section 15, Regulation IV. 1793, in such suits, it was intended that the Law Officers of the several Civil Courts should expound the law, and that the Judges should be guided by their exposition in common cases, but not in particular cases wherein they might have reason to doubt the accuracy of such exposition, and that in such cases a further exposition of the law from the Officers of the superior Courts was not meant to be precluded. These enactments have not been modified in any respect as to the necessity of a reference being made to Law Officers in such cases, and it is only in such cases, that the application of such laws can be necessary, and it follows therefore that no Judge can himself apply those laws. This rule, at the time of the enactments, might have been proper enough, for in those days there were but few means of studying these laws except in the original languages in which they are written and expounded, and to do that few Judges were then, or are now, competent. But surely now that there are so many compilations from, and treatises on, the said laws, translated into the English language, and moreover such compilations and treatises originally composed in the English language, the rule is no longer a proper one. In practice the rule is not observed, and Judges have been in the habit of applying these laws themselves; but their doing so is undoubtedly illegal, and I cannot but think that a special appeal founded on the illegality would on discussion be necessarily admitted. Let then that which is the practice of our Courts be at once legalized. It seems doubtful if any Civil Code will ever be framed by the Indian Law Commissioners, and we must therefore make the best of our present system. That system is far from being in the imperfect state, in which it is generally said to be. We have a simple and efficient law of procedure, in many respects far in advance of that of our own country, for instance it is only within the last few years, that an asserted debtor could not in England at once be incarcerated on the application of an asserting creditor, whereas our law of arrest on that important point has not been thus imperfect for many years. Our law of procedure certainly admits of many improvements, and amongst them are those, which I am in this letter so feebly advocating. We have moreover excellent materials for our substantive law, viz., the statutory enactments on such points, the Codes of religious law, i. e. Hindoo and Mohumedan laws as expounded in the compilations and treatises above adverted to, the select decisions of the Sudder Courts, the decisions of our Zillah and the Sudder Courts as published monthly, involving adjudication on all the various transactions litigated in the different parts of the country, books on English and other laws to assist us with analogies, and though last not least the various publications which have been published under the orders of Government relating to the land tenures of the country, as ascertained at the late settlement. In enumerating these materials, how strange it seems, that probably the most important of them, i. e. the Hindoo and Mohumedan laws, are not allowed by law to be applied by our Judges, without a reference to a Law Officer, whose knowledge of the law he professes is perhaps not superior to that of those Judges, and whose character for honesty is certainly not equally unimpeachable. Again the rule in question will appear still more absurd, when it is recollected, that it does not apply to the Moonsiffs, for in Clause 2nd, Section 6, Regulation V. 1831 it is declared, that "in all cases of inheritance of, or succession to, landed property, the Mohumedan laws, with respect to Mohumedans, and the Hindoo Laws with respect to the Hindoos, are to regulate the decisions, and the Moonsiffs in all such cases where doubt exists, are to obtain an exposition of the law from the Law Officers of the Zillah Court," or in other words, the Judicial Officer of the lowest grade is declared competent to do that which cannot be done by his superiors, even including the Judges of the highest Court in the country. I would suggest that the legislature be applied to, to remove this rule, which is at once anomalous and defective.

11. The system of allowing the Principal Sudder Ameens to try all original cases above Rs. 5,000 is surely anomalous. It amounts to a declaration, that he is a more competent Judicial Officer than a Judge, and yet the Judge hears appeals from him in all cases not exceeding Rs. 5,000 or in other words, the Judge is at one moment in a superior position, and at another in an inferior position to him. The system of allowing the Principal Sudder Ameen to originally try cases involving an amount between Rs. 5,000 and Rs. 10,000, and not allowing an appeal to the Judge in those cases, is also equally anomalous, for thereby the general rule of our law, that there shall be two appeals allowed in all descriptions of cases, is infringed, seeing that as an appeal can be only made from the Sudder Dewany Adawlut to the Queen in Council in cases of higher amount than Rs. 10,000, there can be only one appeal from the decision of a Principal Sudder Ameen involving an amount between Rs. 10,000 and Rs. 5,000, i. e. to the Sudder Dewany Adawlut. I would suggest that application be made to the legislature on the two points.

12. The question of the conflict between the jurisdictions of the Civil Courts, and the Courts of special Commissioners under Regulation III. 1828, peculiarly affects the interests of the inhabitants of the districts forming this Judgeship, as there is much land held rent-free in them. I have had occasion to advert to this conflict in adjudicating during the year under review, and this seems a proper opportunity to revert to it. In some late decisions of the Sudder Dewany Adawlut it has been laid down, that all that the special Courts have to do, is to decide whether a rent-free tenure is valid or not, and that it is for the Civil Courts to determine, who are entitled to benefit by such a tenure being declared valid, on such a dispute occurring, and that too, without Government being made a party to the suit. I submit that as the special Courts are directed by law to adjudicate on the claim of Government to assess rent-free lands, as that claim lies against those in possession, it was as much their duty to decide on the point of possession, as on the validity of the tenure, and that further, till the one point was decided, it was impossible to correctly decide the other. I further submit that the Civil Courts cannot interfere in the way in which the Sudder Dewany Adawlut say they can, without affecting the interests of Government, and that those interests cannot be legally so affected without Government being made a party to the suit. I will first illustrate the first part of my proposition. B. and C. are entitled in the terms of their title deeds, with their respective lineal descendants, each to half of an estate in perpetual rent-free tenure, but by laxity of investigation as to the point of possession, the estate is decreed by the special Courts perpetually rent-free to the lenial descendants of B. and C. generally. Here by the decision the estate would continue rent-free as long as any lineal descendants of B. and C. may be extant; but if the point of possession and amount of shares had been properly investigated, half of the estate would have lapsed to Government on the failure of the lineal descendants of B. or of C.: or to put a second case. A. sells a rent-free estate, transferrible in the terms of the title deeds, to B., and B. is in possession; but the matter of possession not having been properly investigated, the estate is declared by the special Courts to be rent-free to A. and his heirs. Now if the point of possession had been investigated; and decision in favor of those in possession had followed thereon, the estate on the failure of B. and his heirs would have lapsed to Government, but by the decision A. and his heirs, notwithstanding their rights have been sold, would continue to hold on the failure of B. and his heirs: or to put a third case. The lineal descendants of A., viz. B. and C. are entitled in the terms of their title deeds to a perpetual interest in a rent-free estate, but the point of possession having been imperfectly investigated, B. is only made by the special Courts a party to the suit. Here on the failure of the lineal descendants of B., C. and his lineal descendants would have no claim under the decision; whereas if the point of possession had been properly investigated, they would have got sole possession of that which they previously to the failure of the lineal descendants of B. had joint possession. I will now illustrate the second part of my proposition with reference to this last case. C. after the supposed decision of the special Courts, comes into the Civil Court, and sues B. claiming, that he and his lineal descendants may be placed in the same position with regard to the estate as B., and his lineal descendants, and that too without suing Government jointly with B. Under the law of the Sudder Dewany Adawlut a decree might pass in favor of C., but I submit that no such decree should pass, inasmuch as it could not without affecting the interests of a party not before the Court, viz., Government, and that C. should be nonsuited, with directions to sue Government as well as B., which he could do under the general regulations, always supposing that he was not barred by the law of limitation, which would generally be the case. But on the other hand, if C. had sued B., claiming for himself and his lineal descendants a share of that which had been decreed by the special Courts to B. and his lineal descendants, the Courts could then have legally decreed in his favor, inasmuch as in so decreeing they would not affect the interest of Government, seeing that after their decreeing the estate on the failure of the lineal descendants of B. in the terms of the decree of the special Court, would still lapse to Government. Probably this very important subject may be deemed by the Court worthy of further consideration, the more especially, as in one of the cases of the Court which I allude to, one of the Judges at present holding a seat in the Court, dissented from the doctrine of the majority of the Court.

Extract paragraphs 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 of the Court's reply No. 1315, dated 5*th September* 1850.

2. With advertence to the suggestion conveyed in your 6th paragraph, for the registry of all deeds except such as relate to land by the Moonsiffs, the Court (without entering into the merits of the suggestion in other respects) observe that at present the Moonsiffs have not leisure enough to undertake the business of registry, in addition to the more proper duties of their office. Your proposal to require parties registering a deed to certify the fulfilment of the transaction does not exclude the possibility of frauds in the personation of those soi-disant parties, and therefore there would still be something more left for the Courts to do, on trying a suit on such a deed than merely to consult the registry books.

3. In your 7th paragraph, you speak of an anomaly in the law, as laid down in Clause 3, Section 6, Regulation VIII. of 1805; but the terms of that enactment, which you quote, and your own remarks upon them show that the fault, which you impugn, lies not in the law, but in the mistaken administration of it; and it is in your own power to correct any such error, if you have noticed it in the practice of the Courts subordinate to you, and thereby to put a stop to the mischief which you ascribe to its operation.

4. The Court entirely concur in the view taken by you of the baneful tendency and effects of the law relating to the redemption of mortgages as stated in your 8th paragraph. In their judgment, usury laws are worse than useless, as they cannot be enforced, and only lead to fraud and perjury. It is to be hoped that the Government may be induced to take the subject into consideration, and to provide by legislative proceedings a remedy for an evil which has been the result of legislation.

5. Passing on to your 9th paragraph, the Court suppose it is unnecessary to refer you to Construction 1340, dated 18th May 1842. It must doubtless be allowed that the rule prescribed by Note to Article VIII., Schedule B, Regulation X. of 1829, for the valuation of assessed and rent-free lands, and definite and indefinite portions of assessed estates, is exceptionable, and has introduced an anomaly in its effect, with respect to the limits of the jurisdiction of the Courts of different grade.

6. In the matter discussed in your 10th paragraph, the Court believe the general rule to be that a reference should be made to the Law Officer regarding disputed or doubtful points of law, and see no objection to the rule sufficient to require legislative interference.

7. The subject of your 11th paragraph has been lately brought before the legislative, who have refused to alter the existing law touching the jurisdiction of Principal Sudder Ameens, in suits exceeding in value Rs. 5,000. There is reason in your observation that, as the law now stands, the principle of our legislation that there shall be two appeals allowed in all descriptions of cases, is infringed.

8. The Court perceive no difficulty in the question, which you have brought forward in your 12th paragraph. They hold it to be the primary duty of the special Commissioner to declare whether the land claimed as rent-free be liable to assessment or not, and that it is not his primary duty to decide, whether one particular person has a right to be exempted from assessment or another. Of course the liability of the land to assessment cannot be determined without reference to personal claims; and where the tenure is of a joint nature, or limited in its term, the special Commissioner is bound to decide during whose lives the right of Government to draw revenue from the holding is barred. At the same time disputes between coparceners as to the respective shares of each will fall within the province of the Civil Courts.

Extract paragraphs 25 and 26, from a Report from S. Fraser, Esq., Judge of Bareilly, No. 37, dated 11*th May* 1850, on the administration of Civil Justice for the year 1849.

25. The system now in force, also, of requiring the Nazir of a Court to hold himself responsible for the conduct of the Muzkooree Peons is, I submit, likely to be attended with inconvenience. The engagement necessarily involves the nomination and removal of the Peons at the Nazir's pleasure, but to carry out this view would involve much injustice to individuals, and open a door to much peculation. Many of the Peons in this jurisdiction were, originally, appointed by the Judge, and are old servants receiving from 4 to 6 per mensem. These may under the present rule, be summarily dismissed by the Nazir on the slightest pretence; the appointment of a new Nazir may at any time lead to a total change in the Peons of a Court to the great obstruction of public business; whilst the transfer of a Nazir from one Court to another, which is sometimes expedient, becomes impracticable, owing to the possible inconvenience above adverted to, which may attend the step. A great change would undoubtedly have been made in the Subordinate Courts had I not discountenanced it, but the Nazir, it cannot be denied, is placed in a position of much difficulty, when he is required to be responsible for a person, whom he cannot trust, but whom he is unable to prove, undeserving of confidence. Formerly, the Peons were appointed by the Judge, and each was expected to furnish security for his appearance when required, to the amount of Rs. 50, and I am inclined to recommend this system in preference to the one now pursued. It may be thought that this does not furnish sufficient security against the misappropriation of money passing through their hands; but it is to be remembered, that when more than Rs. 50 are to be realized, two chuprassies are deputed, and a person always accompanies them on behalf of the party interested. The risks of abuse are not, therefore, so great as they at first appear to be, and, after all, the chief inducement to public honesty must be sought in the value of the appointment.

26. Much irregularity exists in the Registry of Deeds: under the Regulations the Register is required to ascertain the due execution of a deed, and then after Registry to return it to the party by whom it has been presented, with an endorsement specifying the date and hour of the day on which it has been registered, and the page on which it is entered in the Register Book, (Regulation XX. 1812, Section 2, Clauses 1 and 2). The question of authenticity is not disposed of by the act of Registry; this is left open to be decided in the Court before which it may be brought for adjudication (Regulation XVII. 1803, Section 6): but the Registers are not satisfied with carrying out the instruction of the Regulations; they deem it necessary to enquire into the payment of the consideration, noted in the deed, and in some cases, even the money is paid, as a precautionary measure before them. This in my judgment is irregular, the Registers are always, in the North Western Provinces, Judges of the Subordinate Courts, and disputes connected with registered deeds will for the most part come before them; and they are, thus, liable to be influenced by proceedings with which they are extra-judicially acquainted, and which may not be on the record. The Registers, I conceive, have nothing to say to the payment and realization of the consideration noted in the deed, and it is expedient they be in no way mixed up with it; it is well known, that money is seldom paid before registry has been completed, and, consequently, falsehood being necessary under the enquiries made to secure the Registry, it is, by the present system, encouraged to the detriment of public morals.

Extract paragraphs 3 and 4 of the Court's reply, No. 808, dated 19*th June* 1850.

3. With advertence to the 25th paragraph of your letter, I am desired to refer you to Section 12, Regulation V. of 1804, you will perceive that Nazirs cannot remove the Peons of the establishment, unless they can "show sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the Judge, and not without his previous knowledge and sanction." So too the Nazirs can only appoint Peons "subject to the approbation of the Judge."

4. The practice mentioned by you in the conclusion of your Report, as prevailing in the Registry Offices in your jurisdiction, of making an enquiry into the payment and realization of the consideration noted in deeds presented for registry, is, I am instructed to inform you, quite irregular and should be strictly prohibited. The Registers of Deeds are required to ascertain "the due execution" of the deeds preferred to them, but have no right or power to meddle with any other points, which it is the province of the Civil Courts to determine.

Exclusive of those decided by the Judge in either way.

* The difference of one case between the number pending at the end of 1849, and beginning of 1850, is owing to one appeal case which had previously been struck off on default, having been readmitted by the Judge in 1849, and by mistake omitted to be entered in the Statements for that year.

* The difference of 2 cases between the number pending at the end of 1849 and beginning of 1850, is owing to 1 case pending before the Judge of Simla, having been omitted to be shewn in last year's Statements, and 1 case which had previously been struck off on default having been readmitted by the Judge of Cawnpore in 1849, and by mistake omitted to be entered in his Statements for that year.

F. B. PEARSON,

Register.

APPENDIX A.

Extract paragraphs 17 and 18 from a Report from the Judge of Allyghur, No. 18, dated 15*th March* 1852, on the administration of Civil Justice, during the year 1851.

17th. I solicit the opinion of the Court on the following point.

A brought a suit in the Revenue Court to oust a farmer B, the Collector gave a decree for ejectment, B instituted a suit in the Sudder Ameen's Court to reverse the Collector's orders and to uphold his own possession as farmer; notice was served on A, but previous to a reply being entered, the Commissioner of Revenue called for the case and reversed the Collector's order, and directed that the farmer should be retained in possession; B, then, has no cause of action, he applies for a return of the value of stamp, on which his plaint was written. Is he entitled to a refund? By Construction 977, 28th August 1835, it is laid down that cases in which the plaintiff voluntarily relinquishes the prosecution of his claim, he is not entitled to refund, but in the present case I do not consider the Construction applies; the relinquishment of the prosecution was not voluntary, for the Commissioner's order removed the grounds of action, and the plaintiff had nothing to sue for. The Sudder Ameen referred the question to me, and I directed him to grant a refund. I solicit the opinion of the Court as to whether my orders were proper.

18th. I beg also to bring to the notice of the Court that, I think it desirable that the same practice which obtains in the Moonsiff's Courts regarding the serving of process on defendants, should be extended to all Courts. By Clause 2, Section 21, Regulation XXIII. of 1814, and Construction 775, it is declared that the evidence of other witnesses besides the peon is requisite to prove service of process on a defendant. In the Sudder Ameen and Principal Sudder Ameen's Courts the return of the nazir and the deposition of the peon is considered sufficient proof of service. In reality the only proof is the deposition of the peon, as the nazir's return is merely a statement of what the peon tells him. It has always appeared to me very requisite that the same precautions which are deemed desirable in the Moonsiff's Courts, should be extended.

Extract paragraphs 2 and 3 from a letter from Register Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, North Western Provinces, No. 562, dated 7*th April* 1852.

2nd. The Court are of opinion, that the Construction 977 applies in the case which is represented in paragraph 17, and that the plaintiff B was not entitled to the refund of the value of the stamp of his plaint.

3rd. The Court do not concur in your opinion that it would be expedient to extend to all Civil Courts the provisions of Clause 2, Section 21, Regulation XXIII. of 1814.

Extract paragraph 6 from a letter from Register Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, North Western Provinces, No. 1859, dated 3rd June 1852.

6th. The number of cases of execution of decrees struck off the file in 1851 without any part of the decree having been carried into effect continued large, having been the same in that as in the preceding year, viz. 2056 cases, which exceeds fifty per cent. upon the total number of applications filed in the course of the year; while the number of decrees, wholly or partially executed, showed a considerable falling off as regards both descriptions of cases as per memorandum given in the margin.* The Court deem it proper to call your particular attention to this very important part of the duties of a Civil Court, on the proper discharge of which the success of the administration must necessarily in so large a measure depend, and any neglect of this department or want of proper attention to the rules, which have from time to time been promulgated, with a view to afford to decreeholders the due co operation of the Courts in the realization of what has been judicially determined to be their right, should be promptly checked by the Judge at the time, and made the subject of special remark in his annual report to the Court.

Extract paragraphs 31 and 32 from a Report from the Judge of Bareilly, No A, dated the 17th May 1852, on the administration of Civil Justice, during the year 1851.

31st. I request to be favored with the Court's opinion as to the necessity of a vernacular translation accompanying an English Deed brought for registry 32nd. The Uncovenanted Judges are, for the most part, ignorant of the European languages, and they are not required to make themselves acquainted with them, but, it appears to me, that, for the purposes of registry, they ought to be provided with some vernacular statement of the character and contents of the Deed, to enable them to act with confidence. It would be a great hardship to applicants to require from them a translation of the Deed, and, from the peculiar wording of Law documents, it is probable the translation would seldom be correctly prepared. Moreover, under Section 5, Regulation XXX of 1838, parties registering Deeds in any European language, are only required to pay extra for transcribing the same; but, as the language of the Courts is the vernacular, I am not aware of any objection to requiring a short abstract, in the vernacular, of the leading contents of a Deed to accompany it on the occasion of application for registry. By forwarding the abstract to the Judge, the Register could at any time satisfy himself of its accuracy.

Extract paragraphs 5 and 11 from Court's letter, No. 1103, dated the 29th July 1852, to Officiating Judge of Bareilly.

5th. The Court observe that the entries in columns 8 and 9 of Statement No. 8 have both been included in column 7 of statement No. 3, and direct me to inform you that cases of execution struck off the file after partial enforcement should not be shown as "disposed of by an order on the merits" but as "struck off on default" You will be pleased to see that the Statement No. 3 is in future correctly prepared in your office, in conformity with the foregoing remark.

11th. Respecting the point mooted in the concluding paragraphs, the Court are of opinion that a vernacular translation is not required by the law to be filed with an English Deed brought for registry.

Extract paragraphs 8 and 9 from a Report from the Judge of Cawnpore, No. 203, dated 21*st February* 1852, on the administration of Civil Justice, for the year 1851.

8th. I conceive that the public interests would be served, were the Superior Court to bring to the notice of Government that an Act to reduce the limitation in cases of simple contract, debts and claims for rent, &c. to the period provided by the English statute, which is in force for the Supreme Courts of India, namely 6 years, is much required, the present system is an encouragement to false witnesses, to speculation, claims and to roguery. I think also, that as is the practice in the new county Courts in England, all pleadings should be verified on oath, and that both plaintiff and defendant should be liable to be called by their adversary into the witness box, and be compelled to affirm a claim or answer, on oath.

9th. I repeat the opinion formerly expressed, that it is very advisable that the office of Registrar of Deeds should be entrusted to a European Officer, if not altogether incorporated with the office of Collector of Revenue.

Extract paragraphs 2 and 3 from a letter from Register Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, North Western Provinces, No. 663, dated 28*th April* 1852.

2nd. In reply to your 8th paragraph, I am desired to acquaint you, that the Court have on a former occasion communicated their opinion to the Government in favor of a modification of the existing law of limitation for suits of the kinds mentioned by you, and believe the subject to be under the consideration of the Legislative Council. The principle of the liability of parties in suits to examination upon oath has also been recognized, as you probably have observed, in the Draft of an enactment recently proposed, and has been approved by the Court.

3rd. You may also be aware that extensive changes in the system of registration now in force are in contemplation. Such being the case, the Court cannot anticipate that an application for any intermediate change in the present system would meet with success; and they refrain therefore from offering to the Government the suggestion contained in your 9th paragraph.

Extract paragraph 7 from a report from the Judge of Goruckpore, No. 55, dated 24*th April* 1852, on the administration of Civil Justice, during the year 1851.

7th. Statement No. 2 also shows in columns 17 and 18 of the heading 16, an unusually large number in comparison with 1850, of applications struck off in default in the Courts of the Principal Sudder Ameens, this remark applies also, though not generally to the same extent, to the disposal of cases under this heading by most of the Moonsiffs, as shown in Statements 3 and 8, it does not however appear to me that any blame is attributable to these officers notwithstanding this result, and in my opinion with regard to such cases any relaxation of rule would be likely to do more harm than good, it is better that it should be known that the cases being struck off will be a sure consequence of neglect on the part of the maker of the application.

Extract paragraph 4 from a letter from the Register Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, North Western Provinces, No. 908, dated 15th June 1852.

4th. The Statement No. 8 shows a fair proportion of decrees completely executed to the number otherwise struck off the file, which the Court regard as indicative of a sound state of things. The Court concur in your observations on this subject in the 7th paragraph of your report, but they remark that the practical effect of the rule for striking off cases, on the default of the decree-holders to proceed with them in securing due attention on their part to the matter of their applications, depends entirely on the uniformity and consistency of the practice of the Courts in this respect. The defect which the Judge in the exercise of his supervision is required to guard against is occasional relaxation on the part of the subordinate courts alternating with sudden strictness when the files have become heavily laden, and any tendency to such varying practice and uncertain application of a right rule should be carefully watched and checked.

Extract from paragraph 6 of Court's letter No. 810, dated the 27th May 1852, to Judge of Ghazeepore.

6th. The proceedings of the Moonsiffs of Bulleeah and Rusreh, in the department of execution of decrees, as detailed in Statement No. 8, shows a proportion respectively of 52 and 60 per cent. of cases struck off on default, whereas the average of such cases in all the other Courts is only 22 per cent. You are requested to enquire into the cause of such different results: for there must, it is clear, be some objectionable mode of dealing with these cases in the Courts of the two Moonsiffs named above, who should be warned that they will incur the displeasure of the Court, unless an improvement in this respect takes place.

Extract paragraphs 2 and 3, of a letter No. 84, dated the 10th July, from Judge of Ghazeepore.

2nd. The Moonsiffs of Rusreh and Bulleeah were equally unable to afford any sufficient explanation of the cause of the large number of cases of execution of decrees struck off by them in default. On examining several misls however, of both Moonsiffs, it appeared that the Moonsiff of Rusreh had in many instances struck off cases in default where none such had occurred; these were cases of execution against the person, in which, process had been issued, the return to which was that the defendant could not be found; such cases are not cases of default, and ought not to have been struck off the file, or entered in the statement as such; the Moonsiff has been instructed to enter cases of this description in future under column 7. His practice too, in cases of actual default, appears to have been too stringent, in striking off cases at once in which the decreeholder had omitted to proceed within the fixed period allowed him on his first application—and which was seldom more than a week—a too rigid adherence to this rule has been deprecated by the Court's Circular order of the 14th October 1843, No. 1978, and the Moonsiff has been instructed accordingly.

3rd. As respects the Moonsiff of Bulleeah, the cause of the excess is to be found in the erroneous mode of procedure adopted by him in cases of this description. Thus cases of execution against the property of the defendant were struck off in default by him, when on the eve of execution by sale of the property, merely on the report of the ameen that the plaintiff wished this to be done. The reason assigned in such cases, viz. that the property attached was too little, suggests suspicions of collusion between the ameen and defendant, for it is not likely that a decreeholder should urge such an objection at the last moment, after he has been at the trouble and expense of discovering and attaching the property; but, however that may be, it is clearly incompetent to the ameen to postpone a sale of his own authority, and the Moonsiff is equally to blame in allowing him thus to disobey his orders. In many cases of this Moonsiff in execution of decrees of more than a year old, the decreeholder merely moved the Court that notice be issued; this was done, and on the expiry of the term fixed in it, the case was struck off in default. The Moonsiff has been told that he ought not to admit any application of this nature, or in which the mode of execution is not specified, if against the person by stating his residence, and if against his property by a schedule thereof. These causes sufficiently account for the large number of cases struck off in default in this Moonsiffship.

Court's letter No. 1084, dated the 27th July 1852, to Judge of Ghazeepore.

Your letter No. 84, of the 10th instant, having been laid before the Court, with reference to the 2nd paragraph thereof, I am directed to inform you, that in cases of execution of decrees, when the person or property of a defendant may not be forthcoming, the return of the nazir or ameen should always be read in Court before the decreeholder or his vakeel, who should be called upon to state whether he has any motion to make in the matter, and the orders passed should be regulated by the reply made to the enquiry. The practice of placing such returns with an order, as of course, on the record of the case, or of summarily striking the case off the file on the receipt of them, is what is impugned by the foregoing remark, which you are requested to communicate to the courts subordinate to you.

No. 1780 of 1854.

FROM

H. W. DASHWOOD, ESQUIRE,

Offg. Register to the Court of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut,

N. W. Provinces,

To

WILLIAM MUIR, ESQUIRE,

Secretary to Government, N. W. Provinces.

DATED AGRA, THE 10TH JULY 1854.

SIR,

S. D. A. N. W. P.
Present
A. W. BEAMES, M. SMITH, Judges, and R. K. DICK, Offg. Judge.

I AM directed by the Court to submit, for the consideration of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor, the accompanying Statements, together with the Reports of the Zillah Judges in original, as detailed in a separate list annexed, in illustration of the administration of Civil Justice in the North Western Provinces, during the year 1853.

2.– An Appendix (A.) containing extracts from the Reports of the Zillah Judges, and the remarks of the Court on the subjects therein noticed, is also submitted for the information of Government.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

H. W. DASHWOOD,

Officiating Register.

AGRA:
The 10th July 1854.

APPENDIX.

BAREILLY.—Extract paragraphs 24 and 25, from a report from D. Robertson, Esq., Judge of Bareilly, No. 47, dated 28*th April* 1854, on the administration of Civil Justice, during the year 1853.

24.—The Native Judges have frequently applied to me for constructions of Act XXVI. of 1852; I have invariably refused to give them extra-judicially; but I would take the liberty to suggest, that the issue of an authoritative exposition, making clear the positive effect of an Act which repeals so many regulations and parts of regulations, is desirable.

25.—I should feel much obliged by the Court giving me their opinion on a question connected with the construction of Circular Order of 21st May 1847, which occasionally arises, and which I feel some difficulty in determining. A house being attached in execution of a decree, an objector steps forth, and pleads that it was sold to him by the judgment-debtor before process of attachment had been taken out; and in proof of his plea, produces not only a deed of sale, undoubtedly genuine, and ostensibly valid, but a certificate that the deed was duly registered before the date of attachment. In such a case, is it competent to a Civil Court to determine summarily that a transaction so attested is fraudulent and fictitious, (as it no doubt often is;) or is it necessary to refer the decree-holder to a regular suit, to establish his allegation of fraud and collusion?

Extract part of paragraph 4 and paragraph 6, from a Resolution of the Court of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, North Western Provinces, dated 25*th July* 1854.

4.—In regard to the question put in the Judge's final paragraph, on the interpretation of Circular Order Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, dated 21st May 1847, the Court observe that, taking the purport of paragraph 4 of the Circular Order, dated 10th June 1842, in connexion with the Circular cited by the Judge, which was issued in continuation and explanation of the orders of earlier date, the subject appears to be easy of solution. The Circular of June 1842, plainly lays down the general course to be followed in the instance supposed, of a party objecting to the sale of a house (or other property) attached in execution of a decree, and pleading his own purchase prior to attachment, by virtue of a deed of sale (apparently open to no exception) which he exhibits. The tenor of both the Circulars is accordant in this matter, declaring that a summary enquiry should, in such case, be made on the point of actual possession of the objector, prior to the attachment, the satisfactory proof of which possession would be sufficient ground for stopping the sale. The Judge will thus observe that in neither Circular is a summary enquiry into the validity of the alleged title of the objector (even should that fact seem open to suspicion) contemplated being made in the Miscellaneous Department. The application of the general principle, and the admission of particular exceptions, have been left by the orders cited, to the discretion of the Courts.

6.—Upon the subject touched on in the Judge's penultimate paragraph, it may be remarked that Act XXVI. of 1852, in assimilating the mode of procedure in original suits in the Sudder Ameens' and Moonsiffs' Courts to that followed in the Courts of the Judges and Principal Sudder Ameens, in effect abolishes all difference in that particular. If the Native Judges desire a code of procedure to be laid down in conformity with the principle here declared, the Court cannot encourage any present expectation of such want being supplied; but should the meaning or effect of any portion of the provisions of the enactment be deemed ambiguous, or open to reasonable question, the Court will be prepared to consider any point specifically laid before them, with indication of the nature of the difficulty felt by the Native Judges, and an expression of the opinion, thereon, of their European superior.

CAWNPORE.—Extract part of paragraph 8 and paragraph 12, from a Report from the Judge of Cawnpore, No. 59, dated 20*th March* 1854, on the administration of Civil Justice, during the year 1853

8.—Having observed a tendency (however arising) on the part of the Principal Sudder Ameen to disturb without altogether reversing the orders of the officer next in grade to himself, I latterly kept the appeals from decisions made by the Sudder Ameen, as Moonsiff, on my own files. I had heard also that an unfriendly feeling existed, which might almost unconsciously operate to the prejudice of a very efficient officer, as the simply modifying an order in any way, destroys the favorable aspect of a statement, and I would suggest that separate columns be allotted to reversals and modifications of the Court, as I do not attach any great importance to the matter. No decision ever yet made is altogether perfect, and there is no great difficulty in picking holes in a case, and the doing so is frequently mischievous in practice, and operates to the encouragement of appeals on insufficient grounds.

12.—I will take another opportunity of offering some suggestions in reference to the present scale of costs of suits, especially in cases for the recovery of small sums, and simple contract debts, which appear to be disproportionately high; to recover, for instance, a debt of 16 rupees, one-fourth of that amount must be expended before obtaining a decree in the lowest Court; to obtain a decision in appeal from the Civil Court requires an expenditure of nearly half the original claim, or about 7 rupees 4 annas: while to carry the case to the last hearing and final decision in special appeal by the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, involves a total outlay of Rs. 11-15-0, or more than two-thirds of the original claim; and though in effect these costs are charged to the party cast, they still operate in terrorem to deter creditors from entering upon the recovery of their just dues; while, in addition, the costs for defending such a claim, would exceed half the amount sued for, being for Moonsiff Rs. 2-9-6, Judge 2-5-8, Sudder Dewanny Adawlut 3-13-0=8-11-6.

Extract paragraphs 4 and 6, from a Resolution of the Court of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, North WesternProvinces, dated 10*th July* 1854.

4.—The Judge, in his 8th paragraph, remarks on the injurious effect (in the encouragement of appeals without sufficient grounds to sustain them) of a Court of appeal modifying or disturbing, without altogether reversing the decision which it reviews, and appears to impute some disposition needlessly to adopt that course (not free from a suspicion of personal ill-feeling towards the Sudder Ameen) to the Principal Sudder Ameen in his review of judgment passed by the Sudder Ameen, as Moonsiff. The Court can only observe upon this remark, that a judicious exercise of the appellate power of modifying the judgment of the lower Court is one of the tests, and no unimportant one, of the judicial experience and efficiency of the tribunal of appeal. Its capricious, improper, or needless application, would doubtless constitute a material blemish in the practice of any Court possessing appellate jurisdiction; but that would be an abuse of important functions, which affords no reasonable argument against their legitimate use in the discretion allowed by the law, and much judgment is needed in a controlling authority in restraining or correcting the practice of a lower Court in this regard. It does not at all appear to the Court that separate columns for the exhibition of orders modified, and orders reversed, are required in the returns.

6.—The question referred to, in the Judge's 12th paragraph, of reducing the scale of costs of suits, especially in claims for small sums, and simple contract debts, need not be here discussed, as it will be provided for in the proposed Act for constituting Small Cause Courts, of which a Draft has already been published.

FUTTEHPORE.—Extract paragraph 12, from a Report from R. T. Tucker, Esq., Judge of Futtehpore, No. 12, dated 17*th February* 1854, on the administration of Civil Justice, during the year 1853.

12.—There are two matters greatly requiring attention: 1st, the prodigious number of suits decided by confession of judgment in the Moonsiffs' Courts. I think that it may fairly be assumed that at least one-half of these suits are merely instituted to frustrate the objects of a third party; the litigants having a good understanding, together even previous to the institution of the suit. When A. knows that C. is about to sue him, he persuades B. to bring a plaint against him, A., and immediately files a confession of B.'s demand, in order to secure his property from C. The prodigious quantity of falsehood and roguery, which the present state of the Law occasions, is such, that any man having a claim against another can never feel secure that, after all the expense, vexation and delay of obtaining a decree, he may not be ultimately defrauded by the production of a previous decree obtained by confession of judgment. So that it is useless, or at least imprudent, to bring a suit without ascertaining, if possible, whether or not the subject of litigation has been previously brought under the cognizance of the Courts. Since Circular No. 31, of the 26th November 1847, has been rescinded by Circular of 27th June 1849, it may be fairly said that the Courts are made the unwilling instruments of giving sanction to fraudulent and fictitious transfers. The second matter is, the necessity of establishing some law similar to the statute of frauds in England. Moreover, it is highly desirable that all deeds should be declared by law void, which are not actually signed by the parties, contracting when able to write, or by their legally constituted agents. At present the practice is for men to sign for one another, without any written authority, which produces much uncertainty and roguery.

Extract part of final paragraph from a Resolution of the Court of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, North Western Provinces, dated 15*th July* 1854.

As to the large number of supposed collusive suits thought (in paragraph 12 of the Judge's letter) to form part of the aggregate of confessions of judgment before the Moonsiffs, the Court observe that fraudulent transfer of property, of the nature supposed, are not peculiar to, or probably more prevalent in, the Futtehpore district, than elsewhere. The legal remedy to which parties who are injured by collusive acts of this sort are entitled, is generally known, as declared and explained in Construction 1299, and, if more frequently acted on, would discourage the practice of such frauds. A similar legal protection in favor of decree-holders, the Court remark, in the instance of the fraudulent alienation by defendants of property liable for execution issued against them, was indicated (as a remedy for the analogous evil of mala fide objections advanced in the execution process) in Circular Order Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, dated 27th April 1846.

MEERUT.—Extract paragraph 7 from a Report from G. Blunt, Esq., Judge of Meerut, No. 64 dated 20*th April* 1854, on the administration of Civil Justice, during the year 1853.

7.—On submitting lately a statement called for by the Court of the number of muzkoorec peons attached to the several Courts, and the average monthly amount of remuneration, it appeared that in none of the Courts do they receive as much as four rupees per mensem, and in my opinion the number of muzkooree peons in all the Courts should be immediately reduced, with reference to the actual requirements of each Court. It is quite impossible that a man can live, and keep himself decently clothed, on Rs. 2-1-0 a month, which is the average of payments in the Principal Sudder Ameen and Sudder Ameen's Courts, and he must have recourse to other means to support himself and his family; and I have reason to believe that a considerable amount of petty oppression is perpetrated by these low chuprassees attached to our Courts, who make use of their badges as means of extortion. By reducing the number the pay would increase, and by making the several Nazirs strictly responsible for the peons under them, a better class of men would be induced to take service; and if some rule could be adopted for preventing the muzkooree peons wearing their badges, except when actually employed in executing some process of the Courts, the illicit gains of the appointment would become small indeed.

Extract paragraph 6 from a Resolution of the Court of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, North Western Provinces, dated 25th July 1854.

6.—The Court concur with the Judge that a revision of the number of muzkooree peadahs in the Native Courts, with a view to their reduction, will be proper, and that any rate of monthly receipt, much below four rupees, cannot suffice for the maintenance of this class of servants in decency, and preservation from the temptation to dishonest acts. The subject is before the Court from all the districts.

MORADABAD.—Extract paragraphs 4 and 7 from a Report from R. Money, Esq., Offg. Judge of Moradabad, No. 44, dated 13th April 1854, on the administration of Civil Justice, during the year 1853.

4.—In Statement No. 6, excluding appeals from Collector and Principal Sudder Ameen, and appeals dismissed on default, adjusted or withdrawn, the per-centage of confirmations in cases decided by the Judges is 57, and in cases decided by the Principal Sudder Ameen is 60; and I consider that the close approximation of the averages is satisfactory, as it leads to the inference that no peculiarity of mode in deciding appeals would be discernible in the decisions, either of the Judges or of the Principal Sudder Ameen. I believe that the latter has generally been guided by the principles which influenced my predecessors and myself, namely, that every appealed decision should, if possible, be confirmed, provided it appeared to be based on equitable grounds, and that generally it should be assumed that the lower Courts, when presided over by honest Judges, and such I believe my subordinates to be, may be as good judges of the value of oral evidence, and the merits of a case dependant thereon, as the Court of Appeal.

7.—I found that the intent of one of the provisions of Section 12, Act XIX. of 1853, was generally misapprehended, and variously construed by my subordinate Courts; and as the presiding Officers of those Courts are certainly not less intelligent than the generality of Native Judicial Officers in these provinces, I presume that the misapprehension has not been confined to this district, and it may be necessary for the Court to issue a Circular on the subject. The provision to which I refer is, that "the sum paid into Court shall be tendered to the witness." This is translated, "guwah ke rooburoo pesh kya jaega." The words "pesh kya jaega" have been misunderstood. In some instances, the peon was directed to take the money with him, and to show it to the witness, and to bring it back with him, and return it to the Nazir; and it was not paid to the witness till he had attended at the Court. In other instances, the sum paid into Court was retained in the Court, but a note of the amount paid was entered on the back of the process, with an intimation that it would be paid to the witness, on his arrival at the Court. I thought the case called for a general instruction, which I issued to the effect that the money should be actually offered in payment to every witness at the time of serving the process on him.

Extract paragraphs 2 and 4, from a Resolution of the Court of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut, North Western Provinces, dated 10th July 1854.

2.—The Court see no objection to the acceptance, in general terms, of the principle asserted by the Officiating Judge, that the judgment of the Courts, before which the evidence is taken, should ordinarily be regarded as sound in respect to the value of oral testimony, in matters of fact, but reservation and caution are needed, in stating and applying any such general principle as that which, in the Court's view, Mr. R. Money enunciates rather too broadly in his 4th paragraph.

4.—On the subject of the Judge's 7th paragraph, the Court regret to learn that the Vernacular phrase, by which the words "shall be tendered to the witness," in Act XIX. of 1853, Section 12, have been rendered, in the translation published in the Government Gazette, has been erroneously interpreted and apprehended in the Moradabad district. The Court had the special revision of that translation, in communication with the Government Translator, and the term fixed upon was not adopted without discussion, and a sense of the difficulty of finding a word or expression exactly corresponding to the English meaning of to tender. The Court desire that the Judge will furnish them with a copy of the general explanatory instructions which he has issued on this point, stating what he considers to be the equivalent Vernacular term, fully conveying the meaning of the English expression.

H. W. DASHWOOD,

Officiating Register.

APPENDIX.

Extract, part of paragraph 2, of the Court's Resolution, dated 30th August 1855, on the administration of Civil Justice of Zillah Dehlie, for the year 1854.

The remaining nine suits were instituted in the Moonsiff's Court at Hissar, against parties resident in Foreign States, on whom process was issued through the Commissioner and Superintendent of the Cis-Sutlej States. A correspondence regarding these suits has passed between the Court and the Judge, with reference to the course which ought to be followed in cases of this nature, where there is no evasion of the notice on the part of the defendants, but the failure of service arises solely from the inability of the Court issuing process to convey it to the parties, owing to their residence in a foreign territory. The Court referred the Judge to Sections 2 and 3, Regulation II. of 1806, as containing the law on the subject, and they further remarked that if the Political Officers of the Cis-Sutlej States decline to serve notices of the institution of suits, the performance of this duty could not be made compulsory on them. On a further reference made by the Judge, that Officer was informed that the law above-mentioned left a wide discretion to the Courts as to the procedure they should adopt. It depended on the circumstances of each particular case whether it was to be struck off the file upon the principle of the rule laid down in Construction 1343, as not capable of being prosecuted further, or whether the Court was to proceed to try it ex parte, leaving the plaintiff in the one case to his remedy of a summary appeal, and the defendant in the other, in the event of the decision being adverse to him, to contest the correctness of the order for the trial of the case in his absence.

Extract, paragraphs 17 and 21, of a letter from the Judge of Meerut, No. 64, dated the 10th May 1855, to the address of the Officiating Register to the Court of Sudder Dewanny Adawlut.

REGISTER OF DEEDS.

17.—The Register Books of Zillah Meerut have been signed by me weekly; they are carefully and properly kept, and the required Indexes are kept up, and on my visiting Boolundshuhur quarterly on Sessions duties, I have examined the Register Book of that district, and I have reason to believe, that, the duties are discharged carefully. I took advantage when in temporary charge of the Register's office, on the retirement on a pension of the late Principal Sudder Ameen, to revise the establishment of the Register's Office, and dismissed several mohurrirs, who drew salaries of 4 or 5 rupees, and without increasing the monthly charge fixed a scale of salaries which ensured the employment of a fewer number of competent men on fair salaries, and I am inclined to think that were this measure generally adopted, a far greater number of deeds would be registered, as it is only by giving salaries which are sufficient to enable a man to live that the surcharges and impositions on the part of the establishment can be checked. In many districts, a single mohurrir on 5 or 6 rupees forms the whole establishment of the Register's Office; if many deeds are registered any one day, some delay must take place, before the parties registering them receive them back, and this delay leads to the exaction of illegal fees, which parties are forced to pay, to prevent being vexatiously detained. The legal fees, received by the several Registers of Deeds, forms a large addition to the salaries of their fixed appointments, and is gained at the expenditure of a very small amount of labor, and they are certainly expected to entertain efficient decree-holders realizing by private arrangement, without intimating the same to the Court, liable to the penalty of having their decrees declared void and irrecoverable. The Court think that a law of this nature would be found ineffectual in practice, and would cause, as the Judge himself allows, too great an interference with the private concerns of individuals.

6.—Mr. Blunt's remarks, on the establishments of the Registers of Deeds, will be taken into consideration by the Court, for the adoption of proper measures to check the abuses described by him to be prevalent.

Extract, paragraphs 21 and 22, from a report from the Judge of Agra, No. 78, dated 6th March 1855, on the administration of Civil Justice for 1854.

21.—The little confidence which all Courts place in bonds as good evidence of a debt, and the numbers which are rejected as worthless, necessarily implies the suspicion that forgery is a very common crime all over the country, and I believe there can be little doubt that it does exist to a great extent. It appears to me that a great check might be given to this prevailing crime by moving the Legislative Council to enact a law rendering the fact of having in possession blank stamp papers beyond one year after the date of sale subject to a criminal prosecution and punishment. The informer to have half the fine. To prevent any hardship or loss to the purchaser of an unused stamp, the Collector should be authorized at any time, on application within the twelve months, to receive back the stamp, and either to refund the amount of value, or to give out a fresh stamp of the same value in lieu thereof.

22.—Forgery might also be in some way checked, if the law declared that no deed should be valid which was not actually signed by the attesting witnesses themselves. Now the names of the alleged witnesses, to a bond or deed, are frequently written by the putwaree, or person who engrossed the document, and illiterate and low persons come forward without hesitation, and swear to minute circumstances which may have occurred years before, and identify deeds which bear no signature, which they, of themselves, could possibly recognize.

Extract, paragraph 6, of the Court's Resolution, dated 15th September 1855, on the administration of Civil Justice of Zillah Agra, for the year 1854.

6.—The Judge in the 21st paragraph of his report suggests, as a measure calculated to check the practice of forging bonds, the enactment of a law rendering the fact, of having in possession blank stamp paper beyond one year from the date of sale, subject to criminal prosecution and punishment. The Court do not concur in the expediency of such a law, which they consider would not effect the purpose in view.

Extract, paragraphs 1 and 2, from a report from the Judge of Mynpoory, No. 10, dated 19th January 1855, on the administration of Civil Justice for 1854.

1.—I shall merely offer the two following points, which have come under my notice during my short tenure of the Judgeship, for their consideration.

2.—1*st*.—When a defendant's property has been ordered to be attached, or the plaintiff to be put in possession thereof, in the execution of a decree of Court, he (the defendant) locks up his house and becomes non inventus, then what is to be done to carry out the attachment, or deliver possession to the plaintiff in execution of the decree? Now there is not, that I am aware of, any order by which to force open the house so locked up, is granted, for Construction 745 is against such a measure; whilst Regulation XXVIII. of 1803, Clause 2, Section 19, only authorizes the forcible entry into a revenue defaulter's house for the attachment of property for balance of revenue dues, thus some decisive rules of procedure to provide against the evil adverted to, appears not only desirable, but necessary, for the speedy execution of the decrees of Courts.

2*nd*.—There is no specific rule for the realization of fines for resistance of processes under Regulation III. of 1803, Section 26. Construction 1214 rules that such should be realized by attachment, and sale of the property of the parties fined, as in execution of decree cases, but in such instances, the decreeholder points out the property, that is to be attached, whilst in the former cases, there is no one to perform this duty. In June 1848, Mr. Thompson, the Judge, recorded a roobakaree to the effect, that all fines for resistance of processes, in which it became necessary to resort to attachment and sale of the property of the parties fined for the recovery of their fines should be realized through the intervention of the Collector, but that Officer objected to comply without proper instructions, thus the matter dropt, and was not agitated again until 1849, when Lalla Sheodyal, the Moonsiff of Phuphoond, with the concurrence of Mr. Timins, the Judge, employed the ameen to point out the property of the parties, whose (unrealized) fines were realized by the attachment and sale thereof, and so by these means a very large sum of the outstanding fines were collected and brought to credit of Government. Again, the above Moonsiff, on his removal to Etawah in 1853, successfully introduced the same course of procedure for the recovery of the outstanding fines, and as the plan has answered so well in the two Moonsiffees in this district, I would suggest its adoption generally in the absence of a better one.

Extract, paragraph 3, of the Court's Resolution, dated 4th September 1855, on the administration of Civil Justice of Zillah Mynpoory, for the year 1854.

3.—With reference to the Judge's question as to the course to be followed when a defendant, whose property has been attached in execution of a decree and possession thereof, ordered to be given to the plaintiff, locks up his house and absconds, the Court would only refer the Judge to Clause 1, Section 19, Regulation XXVIII. of 1803, which lays down the rules to be observed by distrainers in entering the house of a defaulter, and the principle which they consider equally applicable to the case put by Mr. Tyler. The next question refers to the realization of fines for resistance of process under Regulation III. of 1803, Section 26. Mr. Tyler remarks that, though Construction 1214 rules that such fines are to be realized by attachment and sale, as in cases of execution of decrees, there is a difficulty attending the former which is not experienced in the latter process, and that is, that there is no one to point out the property to be attached, a duty which is done by the decree-holder. The Court, however, think that there is no real difficulty in the case: the Court ordering attachment might ascertain the property of the party fined by means of the nazir, the local Moonsiff or ameen. This duty cannot be properly delegated to the Collector, as it is a matter with which he has no concern, and the Judge is at liberty to adopt generally, without waiting for the sanction of the Court, the method of realization stated by him to have been attended with some success in the Etawah and Phuphoond Moonsiffees, and which the Court have reason to believe is generally followed in other districts.

Extract, paragraph 10, from a Report from the Judge of Cawnpore, No. 31, dated 13th March 1855, on the administration of Civil Justice, for the year 1854.

10.—But in order to render this reduction efficacious, it would be necessary to reduce the limitation for claims arising out of mere adjustments of accounts between parties, as in England, to the term of three years: simple contract debts should have a limit of six years. It would be necessary to see that the boasted revenue records of rights and responsibilities shall be kept in so carefully corrected a condition as to make it no longer necessary to permit, that suits shall be brought for the recovery of a ten or eleven years' arrears of rent, the account of which is rendered by officers under the direct supervision and control of fiscal functionaries. The cases ought to be very rare in which claims for an arrear of rent should ever come into the Civil Courts at all. I have for many years been of opinion, that the first reform movement in our subordinate Civil Courts must be the abolition of the office of izhar nuvees; every honest native Judicial Officer in the country will testify to the difficulty of obtaining, with the utmost care, a really truthful record of the actual statements made by witnesses under the present system, and to the absurdity of allowing the presiding officer to draw up a decision founded on evidence taken before him, when the pen of one of his lowest officers is to be relied on more than the notes which he takes himself: we must permit the reception of simple solemn affidavits in support of simple facts, and we must place reliance for a history of the result of the examination and cross-examination of witnesses, upon the notes of the presiding officer, endorsed, if such a course should be deemed expedient, in particular cases by the vakeels of both parties.

Extract, paragraph 4, of the Court's Resolution, dated 4th September 1855, on the administration of Civil Justice of Zillah Cawnpore, for the year 1854.

4.—The Judge's remarks in paragraph 10 of his report, as to the desirableness of reducing the period of limitation for suits relating to adjustments of accounts and simple contract debts, need not here be noticed, as the draft of a bill on the subject has lately been read a second time before the Legislative Council, and the opinions of the Judicial Officers in these Provinces regarding it have been called for by the Court. The Judge's observations, on the system at present in force in the Civil Courts of recording evidence in writing, are not concurred in by the Court. His objection is the difficulty of obtaining a really truthful record of the actual statements made by the witnesses, and he would prefer the admission of solemn affidavits, the results of the examination and cross-examination of witnesses being shewn only in the notes of the presiding Judge. The Court, however, consider the present system preferable: the attestation by the vakeels of both parties of the evidence taken in Court is, in their opinion, a sufficient guarantee and safeguard for its correctness.

Extract, paragraphs 23 and 25, of a report from the Judge of Bundelkund, No. 90, dated 9th February 1855, on the administration of Civil Justice for 1855.

23.—The registers of the Registry Office of the Zillahs Banda and Humeerpore, have been duly examined by me. The practice of registry does not prevail generally in pergunnahs Koonch and Calpee, a fact which is the more extraordinary as so much business of a mercantile character is carried on in both places. Much detriment occurs to the public service whenever a change takes place in the person holding the employment, as he is obliged to leave his other duties and appear before the Judge to make the usual declaration, and in my opinion provision should be made by law to prevent such a necessity, particularly as the present rule entails unnecessary expense on the state, as it involves payment of his travelling expenses.

25.—With reference to the first, it is, I think, a matter of regret, that debtors of the Moonsiffee jurisdiction of Jelalpore should be dragged from such a distance to Banda, where there is a Jail at hand at Humeerpore within comparatively so short a distance. The second statement does not offer any ground for remark.

Extract, paragraphs 6 and 7, of the Court's Resolution, dated 5th September 1855, on the administration of Civil Justice of Zillah Bundelkund, for the year 1854.

6.—With reference to paragraph 23 of the report regarding the Registry of Deeds in pergunnahs Koonch and Calpee, it had been suggested by the Judge that the Register should make the necessary declaration on assumption of office before the Superintendent of Jaloun, instead of coming a long distance to Banda for that purpose. The Court informed the Judge that the wording of Section 17 of 1803, which states that the Register is "to take and subscribe the oath before the Judge of the Zillah," prohibited its being taken before my other authority. Mr. Fagan is, however, in error in saying that "this rule entails unnecessary expense on the state, as it involves payment of the travelling expenses of the Register." Subsequently to the date of his report, Mr. Fagan brought to the notice of the Court that the Civil Auditor had refused to pass a bill for travelling allowances submitted by the Register of Deeds, and he was told, in reply, that as the journey was undertaken by that Officer for his own benefit, any expense attending the same must be defrayed by him and not by the State.

7.—The hardship, referred to in paragraph 25 of the report, of taking the debtors of the Jelalpore Moonsiffee for confinement in the Banda Jail, when there is a Jail nearer at hand at Humeerpore, will be removed on the passing of the Small Cause Court Bill, Section 112 of which declares that the words "Civil Jail" shall include the "Civil Jail of the Zillah, and any place appointed by the Executive Government for the confinement of prisoners in civil cases by any Court constituted under this Act."

Extract, paragraph 3, of the Court's Resolution, dated 15th September 1855, on the administration of Civil Justice of Zillah Kumaon, for year 1854.

3.—Since the close of the year under review, some correspondence has passed between this and the lower Court, and Government, on the subject of the jurisdiction of the local Courts at Nynee Tal to hear and determine certain claims against Military Officers. After consultation with the Advocate General, it was ruled that so long as troops are not employed at Nynee Tal, the local Courts were competent to adjudicate all claims for debt and other personal actions against Military Officers resident at that place. The execution of decrees in such cases would be carried out by the local Courts, in respect to their own jurisdiction, according to the rules in force there, or, when beyond their jurisdiction, in conformity with the rules laid down in Act XXXIII. of 1852.
